IMPERIAL CONFERENCE.

FAR EAST THE CENTRE OF THE WORLD'S PROBLEMS.

BRITAIN THE MEDIATOR.

GENERAL SMUTS SUGGESTS AN INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE.

LONDON, June 21.
Following the traditional order of precedence, Mr. Meighen, Prime Minister of Canada, was the first Dominion speaker at the resumed conference. He urged that an essential condition of the success of the conference would be frequent and regular meetings as growing relations demanded.

General Smuts argued that the predominant object of British policy would be the securing of peace for the world. Two great advances towards the object had been settlement of the reparations question and the disarmament of Germany. The latter ought to become the basis of a new departure for world policy. He strongly favoured Anglo-American co-operation, emphasising, however, that he did not mean an alliance.

General Smuts declared that Europe had largely lost its pre-war power of position and the scene had moved to the Far East and the Pacific which would be the centre of the world's problems in the next 50 years. He believed that the present conference would become one of the great landmarks in history if it could lead the powers concerned in the Far East into a friendly conference.

Mr. Sastri, the Indian delegate, pleaded that Indians now fully domiciled in the Dominions should receive fully citizenship.

IMPROVED CABLE COMMUNICATIONS ESSENTIAL.
Mr. W. M. Hughes, Prime Minister of Australia, said that improved cable communications were absolutely essential if the Dominions were going to have an effective voice in foreign policy. He strongly favoured renewal of the Anglo-Japanese Treaty if it distinctly excluded the possibility of war with America. He believed that renewal was most likely to ensure world peace.

Mr. Hughes advocated a conference of powers with the object of limiting armaments and stopping naval construction. He considered that the Dominions ought to contribute to naval defence on a per capita basis, instead of some paying more than others, and be in terms of Dominions navies. He questioned the necessity of a constitutional conference in 1922.

Mr. Massey, Prime Minister of New Zealand, regarded the improvement of inter-empire transport communications as one of the most vital concerns. He dealt with unworkableness of dual government in the New Hebrides and suggested an exchange of territory with France. He hoped that future conferences would be periodically held. The Dominions supported the Anglo-Japanese Treaty.

RACE FOR ARMAMENTS FATAL MISTAKE.

Mr. Meighen said that the outlying Dominions possibly were not disposed to pay equal attention to the paramount necessity of recognizing that no step is taken which overlooks the importance of mitigating racial divisions.

General Smuts, stressing the need of peace, very strongly pressed that the cardinal feature of our policy was to make an armaments race impossible. A fatal mistake would be a race against America whom the Dominions regarded as the oldest of them. The Empire, however, did not need exclusive alliances. The fact that Europe had largely lost its pre-war position was a strong reason against the Empire entering European entanglements. Referring to the international outlook in the Far East, he declared that the British Empire's great position singled out her as the peacemaker and mediator between East and West.

Mr. Sastri foreshadowed the submission of resolutions as regards the status of Indians in the Dominions which he declared would be regarded by India as a test whereby the whole position must be judged.

MINERS' LEADER GLOOMY.

"THE STRUGGLE CANNOT BE CONTINUED INDEFINITELY."

BITTERNESS AGAINST GOVERNMENT.

LONDON, June 21.
Mr. Frank Hodges the miners' leader, in a gloomy speech at the Brighton conference said that the trade union movement was a mere grouping of close corporations with only the interest of a particular group at heart. The failure of the Triple Alliance to act was due to the internal structure of the trade union organisation. Referring to the miners' struggle, he said that the miners' capacity to suffer for right was a wonderful demonstration, but the struggle cannot be continued indefinitely and the time must soon come to end this suffering. "We do not propose to make any dramatic declaration. All the drama has been knocked out of us. We will not blame you if we are beaten," said Mr. Hodges, "but the iron has entered the miners' soul." It was solely the Government that was responsible and when everything is over the miners will not rest until it has brought this Government down and achieved politically what it failed to achieve industrially. He concluded by appealing to the conference for a generous declaration of support.

HOME CRICKET.

SURREY COMPLETELY FAILS AGAINST AUSTRALIAN BOWLING.

LONDON, June 21.
On the Oval in cloudy weather, before a moderate attendance, Surrey, with the exception of Crawford 28, and Duff 30, completely failed against the bowling of Gregory who took four wickets for 45 runs, McDonald who took three wickets for 34 runs, and Armstrong who took two wickets for 28 runs. Surrey was out for 118 in 135 minutes. The crowd showed hostility to the umpire's decision that Crawford was out. The Australians won by 78 runs.
Oxford beat Sussex by 21 wickets. Nottingham beat Leicestershire by two wickets. Lancashire beat Essex by eight wickets. Lancashire and Middlesex played a draw. Kent beat Gloucestershire by 122 runs. Somerset beat Worcestershire by 83 runs.

FIRE AT SEA.

OUTBREAK ON S.S. "TORILLA."

When he arrived in Hongkong yesterday, the master of the British India steamer "Torilla" reported that an outbreak of fire had occurred on his vessel during her voyage from Singapore.

Dozens of volumes of smoke he said, were seen escaping from the No. 4 hold on the morning of June 16. All hands were sent to fire stations and three sets of hoses were played on the flames. The fire was found to have occurred in the grill from which all packages were at once removed and the outbreak extinguished. The cause of the fire is not known, but it is understood that the damage caused was only slight.

The "Torilla" is a steamer of 5,204 tons. She trades between Calcutta and Japan.

KWANGSI ATTACK.

CANTON GENERAL LEAVES FOR FRONT.

REFUGEES COMING TO HONGKONG.

In view of possible danger from the Kwangsi troops who are threatening to invade the province, Gen. Chen Chung-ming has left Canton for Shui Hing to direct the Cantonese troops in defence of the province. His headquarters are now established at Shui Hing and it is believed that the Cantonese troops under his personal direction will be able to repulse the enemy, says the Canton Times.

Several hydroplanes have also left the city for an unknown destination. Splendid work was done by the aviators in the recent successful campaign against the Kwangsi militarists when they were in control of the province.

Steamers coming from Wuchow are full of passengers, mostly officials and businessmen, in Kwangsi, who are fleeing from Wuchow to escape the impending war between the Kwangsi and Cantonese troops. In her recent trip the "Kwok Ning" carried more than 200 officials and their families from Wuchow to Hongkong while the "Liang Kwang" carried an equal number of officials and businessmen. The steamship companies engaged in the shipping business between Hongkong and Wuchow are now enjoying a lively business, for it is expected that more people will leave Wuchow.

THE POPE'S 1917 PEACE EFFORT.

INNER HISTORY.

KAISER'S MARGINAL NOTE.

Herr Philip Scheidemann, the well-known leader of the German Socialists, has followed up his recent book on the war with a pamphlet devoted to the efforts of the Vatican to bring about peace in 1917. The pamphlet is based on documents not made public hitherto. Two points emerge from it. First, that in the summer of 1917, if only for a while and secretly, the Kaiser was as anxious for peace as were the Socialists; and secondly, that the Reichstag and its "Peace Committee" was then misled even more thoroughly than has been assumed hitherto by those who were bent upon thwarting all chances of peace.

The Peace Conference of the Socialists International at Stockholm had come to grief in June, 1917. Soon afterwards, early in July, an interview took place in Berlin between the Kaiser and the Papal Nuncio, Mgr. Pacelli, on which occasion the Pope had failed to use his authority in the cause of peace. He then proceeded to draw a comparison with the activity of the Socialists in which a hint was coupled with a threat:—The Catholic Church, by virtue of its international organisation, was the body most competent to propagate the idea of peace. The Socialists had rightly gauged the value of such propaganda and had been the first to have the courage to put themselves at the service of peace; that will be to their lasting credit. And if God did not want, and thought it fatal, that they alone should have the credit of this, then it was incumbent upon the Catholic Church to make use of the opportunity offered by the circumstances of the moment. Through ruler of an Empire mainly Protestant, he was bound to say it was in the interest of the Catholic Church that the possibility of a serious discussion of peace should be brought about not by the Socialists but by the Pope. For should the Pope fail in this respect, the world would pass him over after the war, and he would carry no greater weight than any other prince of the Church.

REACTION ON THE ALBERT.

This outburst, then, it would seem, was the seed whence sprang the subsequent peace campaign of the Vatican. But the Kaiser's encouragement at once set about to frustrate his suggestion. His first step was to cure their master of his momentary pacifism. How they did it is revealed in a note appended by the Kaiser to a message from the German Ambassador in Vienna and referring to an anonymous document submitted to him by General von Plessen. It ran:—

Since the middle of the war those associated with the Vatican openly express the fear that it may be brought to downfall through an Italian revolution, following on the collapse of England. In despair at its own situation, England will have spurred the fears of the Vatican and suggested, as a last chance of salvation, that the Vatican should exert pressure on Germany for the conclusion of a speedy peace. That is a sure sign of the serious position of England.

THWARTING THE POPE.

The Pope's peace Note was addressed to all the belligerent States on August 14, 1917. Two factors were pressing the German Government to adopt a policy likely to pave the way for peace negotiations; one was the Vatican itself, the other was the Reichstag, at any rate its more liberal elements, which had appointed a committee to consider a useful reply to the Pope's Note.

To sidetrack the efforts of the latter, the German Government, as Herr Scheidemann shows, resorted to deliberate deception. He himself, as one of the most determined members of the committee in question, was, on September 9, privately urged to go slowly, by the Secretary for Foreign Affairs, Herr von Kuhlmann, who told him that negotiations were then being conducted with Great Britain concerning the Belgian question. On this point, which mattered more than all the others together, to give a definite reply to the Pope would be to knock the bottom out of the negotiations with England.

As to the Vatican, who was in the meantime using every possible argument and channel to get a satisfactory reply out of Germany, the way to deal with it was put in very plain language by the then Imperial Chancellor, Herr Michaelis. In a telegram on August 22, 1917, the Chancellor referred to the reply of England that it would give "the greatest and most earnest attention" to the suggestions of the Pope, and added:—

Our endeavour must be to throw the odium for the eventual failure of the Pope's intervention upon our opponents and make them appear to be in the wrong, as happened in the case of our peace action of last December. I intend, therefore, to drag the matter out and not send a definite reply until we shall know better what the atmosphere is and be able to take up an attitude adapted to our purpose.

HERRNOLLENN V. WILSON. By that time the Kaiser had been completely cured of his momentary lapse into a peaceful mood. To the text of the American reply to the Pope, which declared that the word of the then rulers of Germany could

ALIEN'S FORTUNE.

MADE IN PRISON.

SENTENCED TO COME TO ENGLAND.

A New York man who, while in prison awaiting trial on a charge of passing a fraudulent cheque, made sufficient money by speculation to repay the bank he had swindled was sentenced "to be returned to England."

The prisoner, Leo Borovitch, of Austrian birth, was arrested at Liverpool in February and extradited on a charge of defrauding the American Exchange National Bank of New York of £10,000.

While in prison in London awaiting extradition, Borovitch speculated in foodstuffs and made more than £2,000 profit.

After his return to New York he continued operations while awaiting trial and eventually repaid the bank and retained a handsome profit for himself.

In court he pleaded guilty to a charge of grand larceny and threw himself on the mercy of the judge, who marked the indictment: "Sentence suspended. This man to be returned to England."

not be trusted, the Kaiser appended the following marginal note:—Wilson can't have the German people to his pattern. He must take it as it is. Neither the people nor the army nor the Kaiser will accept a "Wilson" peace by negotiation. It would be easier to throw out Wilson than the Hohenzollern.

On September 21, 1917, the Vatican made a last effort to induce the German Government to be moderate. Excited telegrams and telephonic messages had echoed ceaselessly the one appeal: Give way on Belgium. Yet Herr Scheidemann asserts that in those critical days Herr von Kuhlmann had repeatedly declared that the Vatican knew and fully approved the German attitude concerning Belgium. The Pope, he said, expected no other reply in the Belgian question.

THE BIG FIGHT.

CARPENTIER INTERVIEWED.

FIGHT WITH ONE OR OTHER DROPS.

Georges Carpentier, the famous boxer, is preparing for his fight with Jack Dempsey, heavy-weight champion of the world, at New Jersey, on July 2.

About the fight and his opponent, Carpentier says:

"Dempsey, whom I have met and talked with, is a fighter in appearance, in temperament, and by choice. Twelve rounds, it is arranged, shall be the limit of the fight, but the winner will not be the maker of points. He will be the man who has won by a knock-out. I have no illusions. The feeling is deep down in me that I shall do better with a man stronger than any I have yet encountered. Dempsey and I will fight until one or other of us drops. Will we not be fighting for our country?"

"Immediately upon my arrival in New York I shall go to my training quarters at Manhasset Long Island. M. Descamps (Carpentier's manager) has taken over a country house for three months. It is a mile from the sea, and my quarters are all that could be desired. My principal sparring partner will be Paul Journe, one of the biggest, as well as one of the strongest, boxers in France. His mission will be to fashion his boxing as to fit me not for boxing primarily, but fighting of a fierce kind."

"I recognise the importance of food, especially on hot days, and in my party will be Marcot, Battling Marot, in the boxing world, but a chef who for some time has been in charge of Descamps' Paris kitchen."

SPARRING PARTNERS.

"Joe Jeannette, who at Luna Park in 1914 won against me on points at the end of 15 rounds—a born fighter, intelligent, thoroughly capable, and even now something of a wonder—has offered his services as a sparring partner at Manhasset, and I am going to take him. Jeannette

I would be prepared to make almost any sacrifice rather than miss the opportunity of trying for the world's championship. I made one fortune before the war. I lost it. I have made another, and this I would readily forfeit rather than forgo a meeting with Dempsey."

KAISER'S SECOND SON.

SMUGGLING VALUABLES.

TO BE TRIED FOR FRAUD.

Prince Eitel Friedrich, the Kaiser's second son was to be put on trial on May 18 on a charge of trying to smuggle valuable out of Germany through the banking house of Gruner, Philippson, and Co. The sum to which the accusation refers is 337,000 marks and 2,000 guineas. It is not denied that the facts are as stated in the charge, but the Prince is understood to plead the right of self-protection. He urges that owing to the Government measures laying under attachment the private property of members of the Hohenzollern family he was denied legal rights open to the humblest citizen of the State. What he did in the present case is to be regarded as the acts of an "anxious father morally bound to provide for the existence of his family."

was in my corner when last I was at New Jersey and fought Battling Levinisky. So, besides Journe, I shall have this wonderful coloured man, and my countryman, Marcel Thomas who is at present in the States. It is possible that I shall have other sparring partners: this will depend upon circumstances as I find them upon my arrival."

"I have been in training more or less ever since; set out to earn my living as a professional boxer, and I believe that at the end of four to five weeks' hard work the hardest preparation I have ever undertaken—I shall take the ring in the best possible shape. If I lose it will not be for want of condition."

HONGKONG, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 22, 1921.

THE PREMIER'S SPEECH.

The Premier's speech to the Imperial Conference brings to remembrance the adage about silence being golden. Silence would have been so much more helpful than the speech reported by Reuters. It is, however, an unreasonable to expect a silent Premier as a silent wife, especially when that Premier is a Celt and his trumpet card oratory. Besides, at such a conference he must say something. He is perhaps to be pitied like the journalist who must write something, who is too clever to be content with formalities and clichés and who in consequence writes something better left unwritten. Mr. George's references to the Pacific were not helpful; it is possible that his references to Japan and America may prove to have been harmful. It is also possible that it does not matter, and that mankind in any case is not going to be kept out of mischief. That being so, we may look upon Mr. George as we do upon the quack whom some people call in after the regular doctor has pronounced the patient's doom. He cannot kill a dead man, but there is always the chance that he may restore him to life. The analogy is promising. It is capable of extension. Humanity is certainly in a bad way, suffering a bad form of blood poisoning. Mr. George is for the "laying on of hands," apparently for the undertaker. Dr. Smith, Lord Robert Cecil, and some others, are for amputation. They would "cut off the poisoned limb of militarism. Mr. George (from the speech) has a sympathetic admiration for disarmament proposals, but Britain must maintain the sea-power on which the Empire was built. That may be a true point. In that case silence were golden. As an answer to disarmament overtures, sympathetically regarded, it is fatal to mention that while hoping for their success we intend to maintain our supremacy. The others then will still hope the same, no doubt, but they will redouble their exertions to catch up and pass us—and it becomes a case of "as you were." If we can afford the competition in armaments, if we can be sure of keeping ahead, all right. We may muddle through. But if we cannot? Mr. George's speech had no hint of this doubt. Let us hope he knows. Indeed, we ought to see the difficulty of his position. His own most "patriotic" followers love neither Japanese nor Americans, or if they do, they dissemble their love successfully. Between America and Japan no love is lost. Some of the Dominions side more with America having similar reasons for it, than with Japan, although, as Mr. George reminded them, Japan did escort their troops home for them. So he is in the position of one whose neighbours on each side of him have quarrelled; while he desires to remain on friendly terms with both. His own children take sides; and his position is most uncomfortable. When this happens in a Terrace the victim usually regards silence as "the only safe course." When it happens in imperial and international politics, the Premier makes long speeches. We do not gather his intention, from the Reuters report, nor will the quarrellers gather it. They will each suspect that he is for siding with the other. Much as the French, in their fear of German recovery and reprisals, have suspected him of too kindly feeling for the Germans. In other ways the speech reveals unconsciousness of the fact that there have been world changes. It sounds almost like a boast that "we" opened in Canada's demand for a separate representative at Washington, a boast of a large concession that "we" might have resisted. So also in the references to India, and our alleged Imperial frowning upon race prejudice. Upon race prejudice as such Mr. George really may frown, but he cannot decently pretend that the Empire has not discriminated racially, and perhaps been obliged to, on economic grounds. These are large questions, problems apparently insoluble. Our Premier has no hesitation in talking of them, from the house-top, in a glib way that certainly does not tend to their solution. Let us admit that he had to say something. Let us regret, as we may, that the police formalities, banalities, and commonplaces with which he content himself (avoiding Limehouse directness and "long spoon" talk) were not merely polite, but contained ambiguities camouflaged as straight utterances that are certain to be misunderstood, or too well understood. Our Premier's speech was like the bad miner's pocket. It contained matches. The world mine is charged with fire-damp. Mr. George struck no match, but matches were concealed in this speech of his.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

The Canton Education Conference opened yesterday.

The owners of trucks, trolleys, carts, and vans are notified by advertisement that their vehicle licences are due for renewal on July 1.

Miss H. C. Stubbs, niece of H.E. the Governor, arrived in the Colony by the s.s. "Tonilla" yesterday, and is staying at Government House.

The E. &amp; A. s.s. "Eastern" has been delayed in Moji and is now expected to arrive here on June 27 and will sail again on Wednesday, June 29 at noon.

Members of the Hongkong Jockey Club are reminded by an advertisement in this issue that the lists for the Larsen Subscription Gruffins close to-morrow.

The Bishop of Victoria left the Colony yesterday for a tour in the southern part of the Diocese. He will visit Pakhoi, Yunnanfu and Nanning, and does not expect to return to Hongkong till the end of August.

The Hon. Mr. Justice Woodward, Chief Judicial Commissioner, F.M.S., took his seat in the Supreme Court, Kuala Lumpur, on Monday last week. Mr. H. N. Fetters welcomed him on behalf of the local Bar, His Honour suitably replying.

The words "provided that in no case was the debt discharged barred by Statute" which is exceedingly unlikely in the case of a running account of the present kind, which appeared in our report of the judgment delivered by the Justice Judge (Mr. J. R. Wood) in the Summary Court yesterday were printed in error, and should have been omitted.

Asked to plead guilty or not guilty to a charge of having transferred diseased cattle from one place to another in Kowloon, a woman addressed Magistrate Lindell this morning for quite five minutes in fluent Chinese. Even then it was not quite clear whether she admitted offence, or not, so the Magistrate adjourned hearing until this afternoon when he expected to have more time.

In connection with the five cases each containing cigarettes shipped to Hongkong from Macao by the s.s. "Sui An" as tea, a Chinese merchant appeared before Magistrate Orme this morning to answer a charge of having attempted to evade payment of duty. The police as consignees. The defendant alleged that coolies stopped by revenue officers when loading the cases on to a truck at the wharf named the defendant professed to be a tea merchant but the police asserted that his premises were practically devoid of furniture and carried very sparse stocks. After hearing the evidence of two of the coolies the Magistrate adjourned further hearing until to-morrow afternoon. Mr. C. F. Mason conducted the defence.

Spite was alleged to have been the motive that led an Indian watchman employed by Daniel and Co., of Wyndham Street, to prosecute a Chinese boy on a charge of stealing a metal wristlet watch. Pawn tickets relating to stolen clothing were found in the boxes of other Chinese employees when the police searched the premises, but the Indian expressed a desire not to charge the owners but to continue proceedings against the defendant for the alleged theft of the watch. The defendant himself produced a pawn ticket for a watch which the proprietor's son had given him. Evidence in support of this statement having been given, Sub-Inspector Field expressed the opinion that the complainant had laid the prosecution out of spite, and the Magistrate dismissed the charge.

ALLEGED TRAFFIC DANGERS.

A.P.C. LIGHT RAILWAY.

NO CASE AGAINST CONTRACTOR.

The result of the Magistrate's test of the safety arrangements at the light railway at the A.P.C. Depot at Shaukiwan was reported this morning when the summons against the contractor was called on again.

The police case was that the trucks passed across the road too soon after the passing of a motor bicycle and side car. Mr. W. R. Andrews, of the P.W.D., who was called as an additional witness for the prosecution, said he regarded it as a very close thing, and a narrow escape.

The Magistrate said the defence had demonstrated to him, on the spot, that they could get the truck across the road before the police Sergeant could pull up his motor bicycle and turn round to see it. Two or three times, they did it.

Mr. T. H. King, Deputy Superintendent of Police, said that no flag was exhibited when the police sergeant was there.

The Magistrate: No, there would not be if the defence is speaking the truth that the barrier was down.

Mr. King: We are trying to devise some means of securing the safety of the public without abolishing the use of the crossing which would be a serious inconvenience to the contractor and the company.

The Magistrate: I should think the best way would be a reliable watchman there.

Mr. Rowan (for the defendant): My client will take every precaution.

The Magistrate: I am going to dismiss the summons because I have a doubt about the facts. If the barrier was down, there was no neglect.

RUSSIAN OPERA CO.

OPENING TO-MORROW NIGHT.

So successful has been the Macao season of the Russian Light Opera and Operette Company, which opens here at the Theatre Royal to-morrow night with the popular "Merry Widow," that it will pay a return visit to the sister colony in response to a signed request including many influential names. Booking for the Company's Hongkong season is at Monte's. The Company, which has earned a fine reputation in the Far Eastern centres already visited, will present some well-known pieces during its local season.

CORONATION DAY.

In commemoration of today's anniversary of the coronation of King George V, the naval dockyards and warships were dressed with bunting and a salute was fired at noon.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Through the mediation of the magistrate of the Sanning district and the representatives of the Mechanics Union from Canton, together with the managing director of the Sanning Railway, the strike of the workers on the line has been settled. It is reported that the managing director has agreed to grant an increase in wages and a slight reduction in working hours to the workers. Train service has already been resumed on the line.

According to the Canton Times, latest reports from the front state that two aeroplanes have flown over the suburbs of Wuchow and distributed pamphlets informing the people that the Cantonese troops are only fighting the Kwangsi militarists and that no harm will be done to civilians. The people are assured that every effort will be taken to afford them ample protection. It is also reported that the Kwangsi troops have been defeated on every front in their attempt to cross the border and serious fighting is expected very soon when the main force of the Cantonese troops begins the offensive.

According to the Canton City Charter, ten members of the Municipal Advisory Council were to be elected by general election. An election committee was appointed by the Governor to conduct the election promulgated by the Governor. This Committee began work in April and the election took place June 1. After the election was finished and the result announced, numerous charges were brought before the District Court alleging that corruption had taken place during election. After several hearings of the case, Mr. Chen Hung-tai, Judge of the District Court gave his verdict that the election be nullified. Many of those elected actually bought a big number of votes, asserts the Canton Times. This is the first time in Canton that a law suit of this kind has been decided against corruption. It is a sign pointing in the direction of clean politics.

CORRESPONDENCE.

THE MANNIX VISIT.

[To the Editor of the "China Mail."]

Dear Sir.—Some of the letters which have been appearing in the Press with reference to the visit of His Grace Dr. Mannix, Archbishop of Melbourne, must have struck many of your readers as quite uncalled for. This great dignitary of the Catholic Church is returning to Australia from England, and is coming to China to investigate conditions in the China Missionary Field towards which a remarkable combined movement of the English-speaking Catholic world has been rapidly developing during the past few years. The Maynooth Mission to China has now two ecclesiastical training colleges in Ireland, one in America, and one in Australia; and it is with the object of forming a first-hand opinion on the urgency of the demands of this last-mentioned institution that His Grace is coming to the Far East.

It might be mentioned that no Committee has been formed in connection with the Archbishop's visit, nor is there to be in any sense a Public Reception, the report concerning which had its origin entirely in the newspapers. The Archbishop will land privately at such time during the forenoon or afternoon as he himself may decide, and there will be no function of any kind at any place other than within the Cathedral grounds. The present arrangement is that His Grace will preach in the Catholic Cathedral at 6 p.m. on Thursday next, the 23rd June, on the subject of the China Missionary Field. On the same evening at 9 p.m. there will be a concert in the Catholic Union Hall at which it is hoped His Grace will find it possible to be present. This concert is open to all Catholics who wish to attend.

This constitutes the "reception" on which so much ink has been wasted during the past few days. Similar "receptions" have been accorded by Hongkong Catholics to Archbishop Hart, to Archbishop Dougherty, to the French Bishops who recently visited the Colony, to other distinguished prelates at various times, and I feel sure that a reception on a still grander scale awaits the newly-constituted Bishop of Macao on his return from Rome.

The writer does not, either by family tradition or personal sentiment, agree with the political views of His Grace, but your correspondents can hardly expect that fact to prevent me from extending to this great dignitary of the Church who is on a visit to the Far East purely in connection with the development of Catholic missionary activities in China.

I am, etc.

CATHOLIC LOYALIST.

Hongkong, June 21, 1921.

MANNIX'S VISIT.

[To the Editor of the "China Mail."]

Sir.—These few lines may perhaps convince the people of Hongkong that His Grace Archbishop Dr. Mannix's visit to Hongkong is not an official one, but on a very important missionary tour on behalf of his Church. We do not care about politics, everybody has his own opinion, and surely the Archbishop himself would not care if Hongkong did not wish to welcome him. He is a visitor as anybody else or a passer-by through this Colony en route for his important mission, not in any official capacity, except as a high dignitary of the Catholic Church.

Let this be well understood by all and cease all this bigotry that is going on with no avail. Those who are against him ignore him, that is the best advice.—Yours etc.

NAPOLEON.

A DIRTY TRICK.

[To the Editor of the "China Mail."]

Dear Sir.—There is a persistent rumour to the effect that some of those agitating against the reception to Archbishop Mannix intend distributing leaflets on the Irish question with a view to associating the arrival of the Archbishop with such distribution.

If there is any truth in the report, the public will know that the leaflets are the work of "the opposition" and not of Hongkong Catholics, the large majority of whom are not even remotely interested in the Irish question.

Yours, etc.

CHINESE AND MEXICO.

ACT UNFAIR TO SHIPPING.

UNRECALLED PROHIBITION OF IMMIGRANTS.

[China Mail Special.]

Mexico has suddenly slammed her doors in the face of Chinese immigration with a resolute bang that has reverberated to Hongkong. Unfortunate Orientals with a stake in that troubled country are in consequence finding themselves in something the position of flies buzzing around a window pane; those whom the recent exclusion order caught holidaying in China are unable to get into the country again and those now in Mexico can't get out—unless they are prepared to stay out. For a long time there has been confusion about the position locally. Orders were issued and countermanded and reversed again until nobody knew just where the matter stood. Besides the hardship that has been caused to the Chinese themselves, several of the big shipping companies trading between Hongkong and the Pacific have fallen in rather badly owing to the contradictory nature of the instructions issued. It is known that one steamer which arrived here from America recently carried about 300 Chinese who had been sent back at the Company's expense, before they got within a day's sail of Mexico.

Information gleaned from the local Mexican consul and other sources discloses that there is a treaty of some sort between China and Mexico which provides for free immigration. That treaty was for a period of 10 years and it was understood that no restrictions would be put into force until the treaty expired in November 1921. Then the Mexican Government announced that an exclusion order would come into operation in March last although Chinese previously resident in Mexico would be permitted to return. On the strength of this the shipping companies granted passages to Chinese who were able to furnish satisfactory proof of residence. Hundreds of these people were on the water when the Mexican consul forwarded an order from his Government prohibiting all Chinese immigration with the sole exception of consular and diplomatic representatives.

This unprecedented action on the part of the new Mexican Government is on the face of it palpably unfair and unjust. Any country has the right to say whom it will and whom it will not admit; but there is a decent way of putting an exclusion order into effect. America and Canada realised that but Mexico has still to learn it. Her action was unfair to the shipping companies because when they had justifiably accepted accredited Chinese immigrants for transport to Mexico they were forced to deport them again at heavy expense. It is inhumane and unjust to the Chinese themselves because it takes no cognisance of the domiciliary rights which Mexico has permitted them to acquire. The position is at present that all Chinese passenger traffic between Hongkong and Mexico has ceased. Chinese merchants and storekeepers are unable to return to their businesses; hundreds of families are kept apart. So far, inquiries show, the Chinese Chamber of Commerce has not been officially approached on the subject but it appears to be a matter which they should look into. The harshness and inhumanity of the Mexican legislation must surely lead to early modification of its terms.

WHY

DOES A DOCTOR FEEL ONE'S PULSE?

One of the very wise provisions of nature was that, in constructing the extremely delicate machine which we term the human body, she placed at an easily accessible spot a gauge to that which may be found on boilers or furnaces or other man-made mechanisms. This gauge, which we call the "pulse," is the beating of an artery which lies just above a bit of bone at the wrist and is therefore very easily read, particularly by one whose fingers are well trained.

By the simple action of placing his fingers on one's pulse, a physician can not only tell how often the heart is beating per minute, but whether it is working regularly or irregularly, whether it is overstimulated and nervous, or weak and labouring. The pulse also indicates to the trained observer of the doctor the state of the arteries throughout the body, how fast the heart is beating, and how much pressure there is inside the blood-vessels of the body. The pulse, of course, has to be brought out in greater detail by means of a prolonged examination, and the pulse is indicative of so many things that it may be called the dial of the body's health, showing whether the master mechanism—the heart—is functioning in the proper way, and suggesting immediate remedies for faults which may have become manifest in the circulatory system.

MAINLY SCISSORS LOOT.

Cossack Myth.

When in August 1914, in the early days of the war, reports came in from every quarter of England that 80,000 Russian and Cossack troops had been seen moving by train, most people hoped it was true. Among those who believed it were the super-men of the German staff. This surprising and amusing disclosure, with many others, made by the German General Baumgarten-Crusius in his new book, just published, "Deutsche Heerführung in Marnesfeldzug." He mentions that one reason why the German Supreme Command was so nervous just before the first battle of the Marne, was that it had news of an intended landing on the Belgian coast by British troops and even by "80,000 Russians." So that there was a purpose in the Russian myth after all, and it helped to keep a considerable German force inactive in Belgium at the crisis.

Mr. Edison's Posers.

Mr. Thomas Edison has drawn upon himself a storm of criticism for his denunciation of college men as gaudily ignorant, who cannot answer 50 per cent. or more of his list of 100 questions. Many people question Mr. Edison's reasoning when he declares that a man is amazingly ignorant if he is unable to say whether shellac and benzol are derived, where cork and domestic sardines come from, who invented logarithms, where cedars are found, what felt is, how window glass is made, and what voltage is used on trams. Mr. Edison's reputation for sound thinking is at stake, it is declared, by his critics, who the confounders, people who are unable to name the longest railway in the world, how many feet light travels per second, or from what kind of wood paraffin oil barrels are made. It is equally ridiculous it is declared, to expect the average man to know what is copia, zinc, the distance between the earth and the sun, who invented photography, whether Australia is bigger in area than Greenland, or from what part of the North Atlantic we obtain codfish.

Women Doctors.

When the Queen visited the Royal Free Hospital in March 1915, there were about 220 students in the London School of Medicine for Women. When her Majesty inaugurated the new department of gynaecology 800 women doctors were assembled. Such a gathering would hardly have been possible before the war. It was their fine work then that dispelled the prejudice against women as doctors. They discharged previously the same duties as the men, and not only as physicians and surgeons but also as radiographers and pathologists. When Dr. Flora Murray and Dr. Garrett Anderson organised their women's medical mission in 1915 and slipped out of England to the assistance of the French, almost before the War Office knew that the mission existed, they struck a final blow at the opposition to the equality of women in medicine.

Tell Me Another.

An amusing story is going the rounds of the Duke of Connaught at Suez. On arrival of the "Malaya," homeward bound, a tennis match took place on shore. The Duke accompanied the party as a spectator. Quite by chance the Duke found himself next to a lady of the "unsquashable" type—the wife of an official to wit. Now Suez is not an official to wit. The English people number only a few score; the lady was interested, therefore, on discovering herself next to a stranger, and prepared for action. "I do not think I have seen you before; have you been in the town long?" she commenced. "No," replied the Duke, "I only landed to-day." "Oh, and from what boat?" was the lady's next attempt, and evinced considerable interest in learning her "find" was off "Malaya." "Then you must have met the Duke of Connaught," she went on. Thereupon, "I am the Duke of Connaught," left her at a loss for a moment, and then, with a gay laugh, she clinched with: "Oh, you funny man, do tell me another."

GENERAL ITEMS.

Bottles of ink fluid were dropped into Fleet-street pillar-boxes last night and letters in them were stained.

Firemen at the High-street Fire Station, Lewisham, S.E., had to put out a fire on their own premises.

A British amphibious aeroplane, which alighted on the Thames at Westminster flew from Paris in two hours.

Fire at Earl Haig's residence, Eastcott, Kingston-on-Thames, Surrey, in the early morning destroyed a room and its contents.

"The older the roadmen the better their length of road are kept," ran a report presented to the rural council of Llandilo, Carmarthen.

More than 211 was dropped into the wishing well at Collyer, near Inverness, by people who observed the old Highland custom of visiting such wells on the Sunday in May and throwing a coin into the water.

The Tunbridge Wells (Kent) Farmers' Club is asking the Ministry of Agriculture to organise some method of decreasing the number of rooks, which the club says, are probably as mischievous as rats.

Mr. Cecil Harmsworth, said he could not hold out any hope that the passport between Great Britain and France would be abolished in time for the Whit Sunday holidays, but he hoped it would be possible before the summer holidays.

When John William Gower, 42, baker, was at Stratford sent for trial on a charge of burglary, the magistrate Mr. W. W. Green, allowed him to have 2s. of the money found on him in order that he might have a shave in jail while awaiting trial.

Fräulein Eva Kühle, a pretty ballet dancer, was seriously injured by the explosion of a hand-grenade which was thrown at her by a jealous lover while she was sitting in the public gardens at Magdeburg. The perpetrator was almost lynched by the angry crowd.

The population of the Devastated Areas of France is now 4,066,359, as compared with 1,944,000 at the Armistice and 1,678,398 in 1914. During the war 590,255 dwelling houses were destroyed, of which 280,825 had been repaired by January 1, 1921.

By a new law non-residents in the Austrian Tyrol have to pay 10 times more than the natives for everything. This is done by compelling them to buy special money on the basis of the German mark exchange, which is 10 to 1 against Austria, and compelling them to use it instead of crowns.

At Aberdeen a black-bird's nest with five eggs in perfect condition was carefully handed into the left luggage office at the railway station. It had completed a journey from the north of Scotland to London and back to Aberdeen on the axle box of a railway fish wagon. The trip was more than 900 miles.

Those shining strips of seaweed which, frilled and fringed, are washed up by the silvery sea have given Parisian costumiers a new idea, and behold—the seaweed gown! Black taffeta with its lustrous sheen is the material most favoured for the seaweed gown. The idea is developed by a foliage effect from thickly sown taffeta tabs round the collar, in panther form at the hips and on each side half way down the skirt of the gown.

MODERN ALLADIN'S LAMP.

FUN AND ADVENTURE.

A FINE PICTURE AT THE KOWLOON TONIGHT.

An exceptionally fine programme will be witnessed at the Kowloon Theatre to-night when a splendid British production, "All's Buton" will be screened together with excellent pictures of the Far Eastern Olympiad and the usual attractions. The South China football team and the local tennis players figure prominently in the Olympiad film which was taken specially for Hongkong Amusements, Ltd.

Based on the popular book, "All's Buton," characteristically British in conception and production, is a picture that cannot fail to delight and interest all beholders, as witness the high praise that has everywhere greeted its presentation. Alladin's lamp having been melted down for copper during the war, All of "Better Ole" fame, so the story runs, finds that one of the buttons on his tunic requires but a vigorous rub—or two to summon the genie, the slave of the lamp who awaits his bidding, however quaint or fantastic. Having once realised the magic properties of the button, All gives expression to a succession of desires—executed in a moment by the sleepless genie whether intended or unwitting—that cause a series of the most diverting adventures. To attempt a description of the picture would be to anticipate fun and enjoyment that will be the greater if the element of surprise is left unspoiled one of the strongest features of an unusually entertaining picture.

HONGKONG FOOT.

PREVENTION BETTER THAN CURE.

In answer to "Layman's" letter on Hongkong Foot "Cordwainers" writes to the Editor of the "North China Daily News" as follows:—In answer to "Layman's" suggestion that more light can be thrown on the subject, in matters of health it is generally accepted by intelligent people that prevention is better than cure. If "Layman" and his fellow sufferers wish entirely to free themselves from this malady, and remain free the principal remedy is very simple. Always wear foreign made shoes.

Both doctors and chemists have assured the writer that local tanned leather is solely responsible for Hongkong Foot; therefore, the just-as-good-as-half-the-price, locally produced footwear is the thing to be left severely alone. It is no exaggeration to state that all shoes made in China will have Chinese leather inner soles and heel counters, and this is just where the danger of infection lies. A warm day, perspiring feet, and the infected leather will do the rest.

GIRL SNATCHER.

TO BE GIVEN ANOTHER CHANCE.

The snatcher who stole a bangle from a baby's wrist at Yau-matui was again before Magistrate Orme this morning. The Magistrate, regarding a charge of this kind, against a girl, as unusual, had adjourned the case to give it special consideration, and he now stated that he would discharge the girl with a caution, in view of her youth, and on condition that her uncle fulfilled his undertaking to send her back to her relatives in the country.

"Have you written her a nice letter?" Mr. d'Eyncourt the Mary-lebone magistrate, asked a young man who complained that his wife had run away and taken a baby. The man confessing that he had not, Mr. d'Eyncourt said: "Well, I should begin with that. People who get married ought to know how to make it up with their wives."

Tear gas had to be employed by the Paris police to overcome a mad iron-worker named Duspeaux, who, after trying to shoot his fiancée, locked himself in his room and threatened to kill anybody who came near him. He had two revolvers. The police inspector entered the next house, bored a hole through the wall, and pumped tear gas into the room. After 3 minutes the police broke open the madman's door and found he had shot and killed himself.

YESTERDAY'S CRIMINAL SESSIONS.

MURDERER SENTENCED TO DEATH.

After our report of the case in which Chan Sik Ling was charged with the murder of a woman named Chui Ng had closed yesterday's jury retired for a quarter of an hour and returned into Court with a verdict of guilty. Before sentence of death was passed by Mr. Justice Gompertz the prisoner, in reply to the customary inquiry, as to whether he had anything to say, declared: "I am too sick to make a statement. I do not wish to say anything."

A verdict of "not guilty" was returned by the jury, investigating the charge of robbery at Shamshui-po preferred against Chan Yee and the prisoner was accordingly discharged.

IMPERIAL CHARTER.

London, June 21st.
"Statecraft" is the unanimous verdict of the Premier's speech. For once all parties are united under a single banner. The newspapers contrast the Conference with the League of Nations as a peace-compelling institution and a factor in world welfare. They point out that excellent as the League's ideals are it started with a flourish of trumpets but depends on a paper constitution, whereas the Empire meetings are simple and without ceremony. The British partnership has grown naturally on practical lines, comprising many races, religions, languages and cultures, and has already successfully emerged from very severe tests.
The Daily News refers to the Conference as "a movement pregnant of good for the whole of mankind."
The Daily Chronicle refers to "the Empire based on Liberty."
The Morning Post refers to the Conference as "a family party."
All hope that the Conference will limit its agenda, and concentrate on few things and do those well.

INTERNATIONAL CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE.

London, June 21st.
A further invasion of American business men is expected. Seventy-five delegates to the International Chambers of Commerce Conference, to be held in London on June 29th, have arrived at Liverpool.
Mr. Deffes, president of the American Chambers of Commerce, said that the purpose of the Conference was to discuss the reconstruction of the world's trade and methods and to set the possibilities of an international credit system. The American section of the conference, alone, will be represented by 1,500 trade organisations.
The International Conference was organised in Paris last June, with Anglo-American, Anglo-Belgian and Italian sections. Since then fifteen other countries have joined.

NEW FRENCH LINER.

Paris, June 18th (delayed).
The new French liner Paris, the largest of the French fleet, left Le Havre for New York, with a French Mission, headed by Marshal Fayolle, on board. The Mission is going to Canada to thank the Dominion for assistance during the war.

Colombo, June 21st.
The Bank of Colombo, with a capital of twenty lakhs, has suspended business.

MINERS' STRIKE.

London, June 21st.
A significant statement was made by the miners' leader, Mr. Frank Hodges, at the annual conference of the Labour Party at Brighton. He said that the miners' leaders must assume a great deal of responsibility rather than allow a huge mass of population to go on till breaking-point came and chaos and disaster replaced discipline, goodwill and solidarity. "Maybe we shall have to bow to the inevitable forces surrounding us," he concluded.

London, June 21st.
The possibility of ugly incidents in connection with miners returning to work were realised by the Premier, who promised protection to miners wishing to resume. A large body of police rushed up to Canook Chase, yesterday, prevented trouble by dispersing a hostile crowd of 10,000 waiting for 250 "blacklegs" to leave the pits. Many other cases are reported of handfuls of miners, who were endeavouring to return to work, being prevented by powerful pickets, amongst whom women were prominent, in several districts.

NEW IRISH PARLIAMENT.

London, June 21st.
Their Majesties the King and Queen have left from Euston for Holyhead on their way to Belfast.

There was a royal procession in open carriages from Buckingham Palace.
Their Majesties received an enthusiastic ovation from the crowds in the streets.

LONDON, June 22.
In the House of Commons, Earl Winterton moved the adjournment of the House to call attention to the Government's failure to secure the safety of British officers in Ireland. Sir L. Worthington Evans, War Secretary, declared that extra battalions had been despatched and all available troops would be rushed to their support.

Lord Bickenhead, speaking in the House of Lords in opposition to Lord Donoughmore's motion, hoped that wiser counsels would prevail in Ireland even at the eleventh hour, but if the demand for a republic were persisted in, Britain could carry on the struggle with the same tenacity as she showed in the great wars.
